Ask $1 Million Budget Hike

West Texas State University officials are asking an appropriation budget increase of about $1 million for the 1968-69 school year.

Financial Vice President Virgil Henson left Canyon Tuesday to appear Wednesday before a Senate Finance Committee to try to substantiate a request for an appropriation of $5,012,788.

The appropriation for the current year was $4,024,463. The Legislative Budget Board has recommended an appropriation of $3,964,418 and the Governor's Budget Office has recommended $3,942,627.

"Our request was prepared according to the instructions from the Legislative Budget Board, the Governor's Budget Office and the Coordinating Board," declared Henson.

Henson explained that the current appropriation includes $215,000 for repair of the old WTSU administration building, an item which will not appear in next term's budget.

Henson said budget recommendations for 1968-69 provide for a small increase in instruction expenditures to take care of increased enrollment.

"But they don't give us anything in other areas for increased enrollment," he went on.

Both Henson and WTSU President Dr. James P. Cornette appeared before a House Appropriations Committee last week. The House Committee is headed by Representative Bill Heatley of Paducah and the Senate Finance Committee is chaired by Senator A. M. Aiken.

Boone McClure, curator of Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum, also appeared before the House committee last week and was to have appeared before the Senate Finance Committee Wednesday.

He said he requested a budget of $53,000--same as the current budget--but the Legislative Budget Board has recommended $58,000 and the governor $62,000.

Trail Ride Is Set By Riding Club

A trail-ride and picnic in Palo Duro Canyon and a fashion show for women at the Student Union Building on the campus of West Texas State University will be among highlighting events for the Spring Roundup of the American Association of Sheriff's Possees and Riding Clubs this week end.

The roundup will begin today, Thursday, with registration at the Holiday Inn West of Amarillo and at the horse barn of the Tri-State Fairgrounds.

Friday at 9:30 a.m. the group will meet at the Randall County Sheriff's Posse arena, east of Canyon, to depart on a trail ride into Palo Duro Canyon which will conclude with a picnic lunch. About 30 riders from the RCSP will host the ride.

At 10 a.m. Friday, a style show will be held in the SUB at WT with fashions being furnished by De'Ons and TeePee Western Store of Amarillo. The fashion event is open to the public and will be preceded with a coffee hour.

A tour of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum will be conducted at 1 p.m. for the riders. Rounding out Friday's agenda will be the men's pony express races at Will Rogers Range Riders arena at 8 p.m. Clark Jarnagin of Canyon is president of the national association. (See TRAIL, page 6)

Fletcher Named To County Post

J. L. "Jim" Fletcher, Randall County farmer, literally smashed his way into the general election Saturday by defeating J. S. "Honest Jess" Williams by a margin of more than two to one for the Democratic nomination for Randall County commissioner, Precinct 1.

JIM FLETCHER

Fletcher received 1303 votes and Williams, an Amarillo entertainer and nightclub operator, received 617.

Fletcher will now meet Republican Nominee David Clifton in the November general election.

Fletcher led a field of five candidates in the first primary May 4 with 997 votes to 499 for Williams and then swamped his opponent in the run-off Saturday.

The incumbent, B. R. Jones, did not seek re-election.

Voting in Precinct 1, where there was a local race, followed about the same pattern as across the rest of the county. Only about two thirds as many cast ballots in the run-off as voted in the first primary.

In the first primary, 2,720 Democrat votes were cast in Precinct 1 commissioner contest. In the second primary only 1,920 voted. This was slightly heavier on a percentage basis than the vote in the gubernatorial run-off county-wide.

MOSAKU ONOZATO, mayor of the Japanese city Minakami-Machi, presided at the erection of "carp streamers" Tuesday afternoon as Canyon scouts watched. The ceremony, at Rex Reeves Elementary School, was watched by Canyon Mayor Paul Lindsey and Mrs. Noriko Jacobs of Canyon who served as official interpreter of the Japanese visitors. The oversize streamers, brightly painted to resemble carp, are flown May 5 in Japan in observance of National Boy's Day.

Japan Sister City Mayor Visits

Tours of attractions in and around Canyon, the exchanging of gifts, and a furthering of American-Oriental relationships was the order of business this week as five guests from Minkami-Machi, Japan visited here.

The guests, lead by Mayor Mosaku Onozato, were greeted by City of Canyon officials in Amarillo Monday, where they were given a Chamber of Commerce red carpet welcome.

Accompanying the mayor was Shiro Takenaga, a Japanese business executive who has helped promote a sister city relationship with Canyon and the Oriental town, and the wife and daughter of Dr. Hajime Shimizu.

Canyon Mayor Paul Lindsey and Dr. James P. Cornette, president of West Texas State University, were on hand to present keys to the city to the visitors Monday.

Following tours of Canyon and city department facilities and luncheon with the local Rotary Club Tuesday, Onozato conducted a ceremony at which time carp streamers were presented to the children here.

Attending the ceremonies at Rex Reeves Elementary School were representatives of Cub Scout troops here.

The wind, which was blowing about ten to fifteen miles per hour, lifted the streamers into the wind as they were raised up the flagpole in front of the school. The streamers consist of pillow-type tubes, brightly decorated and cut and designed to resemble fish.

Onozato explained to the Canyon Scouts that the carp streamers, which range from about six foot in length to about 20 feet, are significant of the way that youth grow. The streamers are flown annually in Japan on National Boys Day, May 5.

The streamers consist of three separate fish-shaped tubes and one oversized straight streamer topped with a double wind-mill wheel and wind ornament of gold color.

The wind wheels, which would not attach to the Rex Reeves flagpole, were not used in the ceremony Tuesday afternoon. Roland Black, Canyon Chamber of Commerce manager, and City Manager Paul Davis assured the Japanese guests the pole would be fixed for the flying of the streamers before May 5 next year.

On National Girls Day, June 3, in Japan the occasion is noted with a special display of dolls.

In concluding the ceremony, Onozato presented each of the local scouts with a miniature charm from his country.

Following a dinner in the WTSU Gold Room Tuesday evening, the exchange of sister-city proclamations was held.

The two mayors also exchanged flags, gifts and greetings from their respective cities.

Dr. Cornette, who gave credit for the Canyon sister-city relationship to his wife, asked Onozato to take a pair of red cowboy boots to Japan for the grandson of Prince Yoshihito Yozen, internationally famous sumo painter and member of the Imperial family who visited here two years ago and was made an honorary faculty member at WTSU and honorary citizen of Texas.

The dinner was hosted by Dr. Cornette and was attended by about 25 representatives of social organizations and businesses here.

"I feel this is a wonderful program," Mayor Lindsey said of the sister-city relationship with the Japanese city. "This is one of the things which will

Winding Up Tax Hearings

County Tax Assessor-Collector Bill Money Tuesday said commissioners court has just about wound up its duties as a board of equalization for the year.

Meetings were highlighted by complaints by city dwellers that county taxes on rural property is too low in comparison to those levied against city property.

Farmers countered that with present farm prices farmers are unable to pay any higher taxes and still make a living by farming.

Money said the court is scheduled to go over some letters from taxpayers some time this week.

The court made special arrangements to hear representatives of Swisher County Electric Cooperative at the court's regular meeting Monday. Money said that will bring the hearings to a close.

To Prepare Master Plan For City Use

An urban planning contract between the City of Canyon and Marvin Springer and Associates of Dallas was signed by City Commissioners Monday.

The contract, which was formulated after about a year and a half of discussion concerning a master plan for the City of Canyon, will involve participation by the urban planning firm of Dallas working through the Texas State Department of Health.

The master plan will include the preparation of base maps, analysis of land use, population and economic conditions, development plans and zoning and subdivision regulations.

The city received a grant of $10,521 earlier this year for the project through funding of the Department of Housing and Urban Development. City commissioners last year agreed to pay Springer for his services even if the planning assistance was not given from HUD.

Cost of the original proposal would have included $13,000 to Springer, $6,000 to topographic mapping and $920 for technical supervision and $650 for administrative costs.

While Canyon was to originally have received $14,940 from the federal government, the portion for aerial mapping was excluded from the grant request.

Canyon's share of the cost for the planning study will be $3,507 for the two years of work.

Grants under the Urban Planning Assistance Program are authorized by Section 701 of the Housing Act of 1954.

Springer has conducted several meetings with members of the City, Planning and Zoning Commissions to formulate plans for the planning grant and new regulations.

A public hearing on newly revised zoning regulations for the City of Canyon has been scheduled July 17 at 7 p.m. in the American Legion Building. In other action, city dads approved a bid of $2,252.50 from Imperial Chevrolet Company of Canyon for a patrol car for the police department. There was one other bidder.

City dads also agreed to purchase a vehicle this year that was air conditioned.

"It (air conditioner) would make the city money, so to speak," said Commissioner Jim Christopher. It would keep them (patrolmen) in the car."

All Randall County deputy sheriffs' automobiles are equipped with air conditioners as are 1968 Texas Highway Patrol vehicles.

Commissioners reviewed specifications for a new street sweeper to replace a 1959-model and for a new tractor to (See PLAN, page 6)

Seeing Eye Dog Is Dead

BY WAYNE BOARD

The Clyde McDonald home here has been quiet this week--exceptionally quiet.

The McDonald's dog, Riki, who gleefully barked a daily greeting to the postman, chased butterflies across the front lawn and played catch with his master, was put to sleep Saturday.

When Riki died, a part of McDonald died too.

Riki, a tan and black German Shepherd, probably meant a little more to McDonald than the average dog would to his owner because Riki was his master's eyes for eleven years.

McDonald, who was blind at birth and received training in Austin, will fly to Morristown, N. J. Saturday to undergo extensive training with another seeing eye dog--a dog that probably will not replace Riki in the hearts of his new owners.

"Each of the three dogs we have had has had a special place in our hearts," McDonald said, "because they're all different and all a part of us."

The McDonalds recently began noticing that the twelve and a half year old animal was not acting in his usual manner of playing with children, chasing his toy ball and barking at practically everybody in sight.

A check with a local veterinarian revealed that Riki had only about 35 per cent vision and a blocked kidney. Medication and sedatives were administered, but Riki failed to respond to treatment.

"He was so sick and weak," Mrs. McDonald said of the dog, "that Clyde had to lift him out of the car when we got to the veterinarian's and Riki just lay there while he was being treated."

Reflecting on his experiences with the dog, McDonald recalled one time when Riki discovered a traffic light that was not properly functioning.

"Riki knew the light should be working but it wasn't," McDonald noted. "So after a little while he went on down the block to where there was no light, waited to be sure there was no danger, and we went on across."

Each of Canyon's grocery stores were numbered and Riki knew exactly where McDonald wanted to be taken by just hearing a voice command. One grocery, however, had a revolving door--an entrance of which Riki (See DOG, page 6)

SEEING EYE DOG, Riki, is shown with his master shortly before the animal died here last week. The German Shepherd, which had been with his master, Clyde McDonald, for 11 years, will be replaced through a special training school for seeing eye dogs in Morristown, N. J. McDonald is to leave Saturday to begin training with a new dog.

Spockonian permissiveness. If you don't like the rules, punch your opponent in the jaw. If little junior wants to talk, make all the grown ups be quiet and listen. Let junior's ego expand. Be permissive. If teacher disagrees with him, don't bother to learn the facts. Take his side anyway. She might cause him to have an inferiority complex if she smacks him for disturbing the class. You'll have something to be proud of. Junior might even grow up and assassinate a President.

If these things don't work, if junior reaches the age of 18 and still has some semblance of responsibility about him, get him in a college or university under the tutelage of a few professors who think this country is absolutely no good. Be sure his pro's are undermining the nation's efforts to protect itself abroad. If possible see that he studies history under an instructor who has no respect at all for American traditions and background, one who thinks the Soviet Union and Red China have better forms of government than the United States.

Oh yes, his prof by all means should bring a Castroite traitor in now and then to tell him what a paradise Fidel and Che Guevara built in Cuba.

As for religious influence, bring junior up in a church whose pastor looks upon his congregation as an ultra-liberal political activist group. The pastor should spend more time organizing demonstrations, protests and sit ins than he does teaching the Holy Writ.

Now Junior should have some social activities while he's in the university. Have him to join a far left student group. That way he'll have an organization behind him when he decides to vandalize the college president's office and take over a few campus buildings.

He simply must grow a beard and leave his hair long and uncombed.

Encourage junior to register as soon as possible for selective service because burning draft cards is "in" this year. And how can you burn your draft card if you haven't registered?

If junior has been brought up by the book at all he should by this time have developed a complete contempt for laws and law enforcement officers. He should be able to spout platitudes of brotherly love and at the same time completely disregard the welfare and rights of those about him.

He should be emotionally capable of removing by whatever means necessary anyone with whom he disagrees or maybe those he just doesn't like.

If there is one word which sums up our inability to protect even our leaders I would say it is permissiveness.

This country has honored almost to the point of dedication some men who have wilfully broken laws which did not suit them.

Ironically, Martin Luther King, Jr., was slain by a criminal's bullet while he, himself was in Memphis on a law-breaking mission.

President Kennedy was killed by a Communist who had been coddled in spite of his treason.

Now Senator Robert Kennedy has been shot down for God only knows what reason while going about the business of running for his party's nomination for the Presidency.

A permissive Supreme Court has thrown such a shield of protection around those accused of crime that the Senator's assailant probably will be punished mildly, if at all.

Only in the past week the Supreme Court virtually struck down the death penalty--the greatest deterrent of all to crimes of extreme violence such as murder and rape.

I predict that if this pattern of permissiveness is continued, the people of this country eventually will turn for protection to a strong man and we will witness a wave of repression such as the United States has never seen before.

The only possible solution is strict enforcement of the law. With a Supreme Court bent on standing capricious legal guard over men who victimize their fellowmen, I do not see how strict law enforcement is possible.

Former Canyon Resident Noted With Recognition

A former district clerk at Canyon and daughter of a pioneer family here has been listed by the National Register of Prominent Americans for the current edition of Who's Who of American Women.

Mrs. Ethel Dorcas Mullins pioneered the office of district clerk here and served in that capacity for four years. She earned her bachelor's degree in English and education from West Texas State University and has done postgraduate work at West Texas State University and New Mexico State University.

Mrs. Mullins is presently a seventh grade English teacher at Tibbetts Junior High School in Farmington, New Mexico. She is in Canyon for the summer for additional work at the university.

She was recently awarded a certificate for placing among the top ten "most traveled educators in New Mexico" and among the top 50 in the United States. She was recognized for her tour of several islands of the South Pacific and Mexico. The awards were made by the USA Capitol Lecture Bureau of Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Mullins has served as executive secretary for the Southwest District of the National Recreation Association, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Electra, executive hostess for Atascocita County Club in Houston and is a member of the recreation commission appointed by the mayor of Farmington, along with being active in other community organizations and professional groups.

Her husband, Edgar, died in 1933. She has a daughter and four grandchildren. Mrs. Mullins left Canyon in 1956.

With a historical past, Mrs. Mullins is presently working on biographies of her mother, the late Mittie Elizabeth Workman of Canyon and her late grandfather, John Calvin Pipkin of Plainview and Canyon. Her grandfather was owner of a "Big Four" merchandise store in Canyon for a number of years and fought during the Civil War. He was one of the founders of West Texas State University an early leader of the First Methodist Church of Canyon.

She related that her father, Clint Adkins Workman, used to "freight supplies from Plainview to Amarillo and was responsible for the first water well drilled in New Mexico." She also stated that her father "was the first on the plains to build equipment for moving and the first thing that he moved was a two-story hotel in Plainview."

Mrs. Mullins stated that "there was quite a furor when she was elected to the district clerk's position here". She was studying government at WTSU and saw the split coming between the district and county clerk's office and the sheriff and tax collector's office.

"I filed for the district clerk post on the last day that I could--even after I was elected," said Mrs. Mullins. "They tried to keep me from taking office. But the county attorney and I proved them wrong and I served for four years in that post."

Before her tenure as district clerk, Mrs. Mullins operated a dress shop near the campus.

Amarillo Men Jailed Here

Two Amarillo men were fined and sentenced to jail terms here last week for their alleged assault on two Texas Highway Patrolmen following a one-car accident in South Amarillo.

Officers James Cadenhead and Bill Harvill said they were called to the scene of the one-car smash-up last Thursday afternoon in South Amarillo on Osage Street.

The four occupants of the vehicle were taken to jail here where officers were planning to file charges of drunk in public.

Before the four could be booked on the charges, officers said they tried to escape.

After the four were subdued and booked they were taken before Randall County Judge Carrol Brown who assessed the fines and jail terms.

Profiro C. Mendoza, 17, of 2500 S. Roberts, and Chris Melisil Valverde, 17, of 2202 S. Roberts, each received a fine of $142 plus three months in jail here on the assault charge, plus an additional $107 for being drunk in public. Valverde also received a fine of $32 for not having a valid drivers license.

Pete Flores Mendez, 17, of 1305 E. 16th St. in Amarillo, was fined $107 on a charge of drunk in public, and a 15-year-old girl was fined $107 on a charge of minor in possession of an alcoholic beverage.

"He thought it was a trap," McDonald explained, "because one door would open and once he was inside, it would close behind him." Dogs being trained now, however, are taught to have no fear of business establishments with revolving doors.

Riki knew the common terminology for most stores and items, although McDonald used the word "box" to denote a telephone and the dog always went to an appliance store when "hardwares" was mentioned. "He liked the appliance store," Mrs. McDonald said, "because he liked to look at all the pretty toys, Riki never bothered any of them but he always liked to look."

McDonald said he recently purchased a new ball to replace an older and more frayed model, but Riki refused to consider playing with it.

"It (the new ball) would just lay outside on the ground while he played with the old one," Mrs. McDonald recalled.

Apparently afraid of nothing, Riki enjoyed playing in the McDonald's back yard while the electric light burned.

"One night he wouldn't go outside," Mrs. McDonald recalled. "We saw that the light was burned out and Riki wouldn't go outside until I replaced the bulb."

Riki will also have his own special place in the McDonald's hearts because he was present when the couple moved to their home here from Happy. Their first dog was with them for thirteen and a half years and the second was on hand when the couple married.

Riki also had another distinction—he was the last of his blood line—a blood line that began with the McDonald's first dog. The last animal at twelve and a half years old had outlived the usual life expectancy by about five years.

Now McDonald will be embarking on a new experience—an experience that will involve from between three to six weeks of training with a new seeing eye dog.

The non-profits school in Morristown, called "Seeing Eye", was established as the first in the United States by two elderly women.

The duo sent Morris Frank to Germany in the hope of determining how dogs were trained in Switzerland to rescue skiers caught in snow storms.

"It's like turning a person out of prison," McDonald said. Morris told the women after having seen the dogs work with the blind.

"A seeing eye dog," McDonald declared, "will get you what money won't—freedom. The first thing I did after I got my first dog was to go out and buy a pair of shoes."

McDonald, who said the first trip to New Jersey by train took 54 hours and the return by air was only four hours, said he was a piano tuner but "I knew the pianos wouldn't come to me—I had to go to them."

The training, that includes trips through busy New York on the subways and a long walk alone through Chinatown, is with a dog that was weaned and trained in Canada.

The dogs are placed in homes with 4-H children so the animals will become accustomed to telephones, buzzers and people in general. The animals are then trained with their future owners in an extensive course before being declared "safe."

McDonald will then return with his new dog to begin a training program in Canyon which will involve finding the grocery stores and other places to which the owner may choose to go.

"The dog will probably know what a pharmacy is and all about traffic lights," McDonald said, "but it will take time for him to become aware of all the things in Canyon."

McDonald said he was not afraid of the capabilities of a new seeing eye dog.

"We have to go through subways in New York, walk through Chinatown and make a regular route in New Jersey before we can be declared 'safe' and can go alone," McDonald explained, adding he had worked dogs in Wichita Falls and Chicago as well as gigantic Gotham.

After the dog is brought to his new home here, periodic reports must be made to the organization in New Jersey, stating the animal's condition and any changes that have been noted either by the McDonald's or by a veterinarian.

Asked if the new dog's diet would vary from time to time, Mrs. McDonald said changes could be made, "but only if the veterinarian says so."

"They live to work—they work until they fall," McDonald in the first primary there were 8,332 ballots cast in the county as compared to only 5,460 in the run-off Saturday.

Preston Smith carried Randall County with a narrow margin and went on to crush his opponent, Don Yarborough, in state-wide balloting.

Smith, who trailed Yarborough, 1,065 to 1,457 in the first primary in Randall County, polled 2,886 votes to Yarborough's 2,527 in the run-off for 52.85 percent of the vote.

It appeared that Yarborough would sweep the county as boxes from the south part of the county, those closest to Killgore Computer Center and the ones counted first, went box after box to the Houston lawyer.

The first box counted was from West Texas State University Student Union Building where precinct 13 balloted. It gave Yarborough a 6-vote margin. The margin was extremely narrow in most precincts but Yarborough clung to a narrow lead until two big boxes from South Amarillo, Coronado and Ridgcrest Schools were counted. Coronado gave Smith 705 votes to Yarborough's 344. Ridgcrest went 755 to 503 for Smith and Randall's absentee voters approved Smith 336 to 244.

Jack Hazlewood carried Randall in the race for Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals. He received 3,299 votes as compared to 2,084 for Judge James A. Joy. However, Joy was elected to the office in voting across the district.

"My dream has come true," Onozato said of his visit to the United States, suggesting representatives of the two cities "shake hands strongly" to make both municipalities better places in which to live.

The Japanese guests toured the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum and Palo Duro Canyon State Park Wednesday, as well as a Randall County cattle feeding operation, an irrigated wheat farm and an area greenhouse.

The Japanese city, the mayor explained, derives part of its income from farming trade and additional revenue from tourists using health spa areas.

The sales contract is to contain a 15-year reversion clause. If the site is not used for a school building within 15 years, it will revert to Hunsley.

Also, the school will be required to erect a sign marking the tract as the future site of a school building.

Joe Gill made a motion to accept Hunsley's proposal and it was seconded by Bill Davis. The motion carried unanimously.

Board President Jerry LaGrone announced that Canyon School District's bond rating has been raised from BA to A.

"It will help a tremendous amount," LaGrone declared. Several board members, school officials and Canyon businessmen appeared before two bond rating firms in New York last week in an effort to get the rating raised.

LaGrone called a meeting for 4 o'clock the afternoon of June 17 to sell $1,350,000 worth of school bonds for construction of a new Canyon junior high school building.

Springer had previously objected to the move because of what he said was insufficient drainage.

Commissioners said if they and the planning body approved the action, each lot would be 150-foot in depth and trash would be collected from the proposed homes in the front.

City Manager Paul Davis said the city would be carrying over about $36,000 not spent from the budget last year, plus an additional $12,000 which was underspent. An audit will be completed later this week, he added.

COOK OF THE WEEK Shares Favorite Recipes

Sullivan of Seattle, Washington and Jim Wagon of Fresno, California and his sister, Mrs. Stella Smith, lives in Dallas.

The Sullivans were married July 31, 1954. They moved to Canyon from Bryan in 1963 and are active members of the First Christian Church where both are Sunday School teachers and she is involved in the Christian Women's Fellowship.

Her husband, who likes tennis, gardening, reading and bridge, is a member of Phi Delta Kappa. She is a member of the Golden Spread Home Demonstration Club and served as a substitute teacher at Canyon Junior High School last year.

The Sullivans have two children including Susan, 12, and Mark, 9.

Susan will enter Canyon Junior High School this fall. She has been involved in chorus and enjoys reading, shopping trips, and visiting her friends as pastimes. Mark, who is a fourth grade student, is a member of the Cubs team for the Little League and calls athletics his major hobby.

Both Susan and Mark enjoy playing bridge and all sorts of games with their parents as a pastime for the entire family.

Mrs. Sullivan said that she "enjoys all phases of homemaking and has a special interest in interior decoration". She also like refinishing furniture, crafts, reading and cooking and sewing for her family.

Her recipes are:

GOLDEN CHEESE AND RICE
2 cups cooked minute rice
3 cups finely shredded carrots
2 cups grated American cheese

2 beaten eggs
1 1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
2 Tbsp. minced onion
1/2 cup milk

Combine ingredients. Reserve 1/2 cup of the cheese. Pour into one-quart greased casserole and sprinkle with remaining 1/2 cup cheese.

Bake in moderate oven (350) for 35-40 minutes. If baking in glass dish reduce oven temperature to 325 degrees. Serve with any kind of meat. Especially good with baked ham.

RASPBERRY DESSERT SQUARES

1 pkg. raspberry jello
dash of salt
1 1/2 cups hot water
1 (10 oz.) pkg. frozen raspberries

1 cup heavy cream, whipped
1 (10 oz.) angel food cake
Dissolve jello and salt in the boiling water. Add frozen berries and stir until thawed. Chill until partially set.

Whip cream. Whip jello mixture until fluffy and fold into whipped cream.

Tear cake into bite-size pieces and place a layer of cake bits in the bottom of a 9 inch square pan. Cover with whipped jello mixture and continue alternating layers until pan is full. Chill until set. Cut in squares.

Garnish with dollops of extra whipped cream and maraschino cherries. A cool summer dessert.

SPINACH SOUFFLE

(Serves 4)

Select a 2 1/2 pint souffle mold or a glass casserole dish 8 inches in diameter. If smaller baking dish is used, make a collar around it. Butter the mold generously and sprinkle with parmesan cheese. Preheat oven to 400 degrees.

1 Tbsp. chopped shallots or spring onions
1 Tbsp. butter
1 pkg. frozen chopped spinach
1/4 tsp. salt

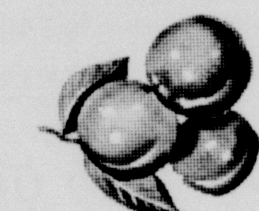

Cook shallots in butter. Add spinach (no water) and cook for several minutes on simmer until moisture is evaporated from spinach almost. Remove from heat.

Souffle Base:
3 Tbsp. butter
3 Tbsp. flour
1 cup boiling milk
1/2 tsp. salt
1/8 tsp. pepper
pinch of cayenne
pinch of allspice

Melt butter. Add flour and mix well for about two minutes over heat. Do not brown. Remove from heat. Add milk and blend. Beat in seasonings and return to fire. Boil for one minute. Sauce will be very thick.

Remove sauce from heat. Immediately separate four eggs and drop the yolks (one at a time) in center of hot sauce and beat in. Continue until four yolks have been added. Add spinach and seasonings. (May add mushrooms or almonds browned in butter or bits of ham.) 5 egg whites (room temp.) pinch of salt
3 Tbsp. grated swiss cheese or parmesan

Beat the egg whites and salt until very stiff. (A good test for stiffness is to lay an egg on top of the whites. The whites should support the weight of the egg.)

Cotton Sales Are Restricted

Cotton producers here recently voted to restrict cotton allotment sales and leases to producers in Randall County, according to Donald F. Lloyd, office manager for the local Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service.

The vote, he said, was 72 for the out-of-county transfers and 65 voted against the out-of-county transfers but a two-thirds majority voting in favor of the transfers is required to make the provision become effective.

Any producers who have lost their cotton acreage due to a genuine natural disaster may replace the acreage to another crop, he said, adding that to be eligible for the price support payment and to receive history credit, the farmer must file an application for acreage credit with the local office before the acreage is replanted.

Lloyd said he was required to visit the farm and check acreage for program compliance prior to replanting and the producer is required to pay the cost of the farm visit.

The acreage must have been planted and cared for in a workable manner with the expectation of producing a normal crop up until the time of the disaster.

MRS. OLIN RAY NORRID

Miss Phillips-Norrid United In Ceremonies

Trinity Methodist Church of Amarillo was the site for the May 31st marriage of Miss Carolyn Sue Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Workman Phillips of Rt. 2, Canyon, and Olin Ray Norrid, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Norrid of Amarillo.

Rev. Jack Riley officiated at the exchange of marriage vows. Miss Linda Talley of Amarillo sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer" with organ accompaniment by Mrs. Paul Timmons of Amarillo.

The church was decorated with an archway of greenery and white blossoms at the altar. Candelabra with greenery flanked the arrangement. Guests were registered at a table laid with a white lace cloth and accented with a memory candle. Miss Maribeth Oglesby presided at the guest book.

Mrs. Nolan Edward Brown of Canyon served as matron of honor and bridesmaid was Kay Fisher of Canyon. They wore identical floor length gowns of sky blue crepe with empire waistlines and bell sleeves and each carried large white mums with blue streamers.

Best man was Jim R. Shelton of Amarillo and Roy Maxwell, cousin of the bride, served as groomsmen. Ushering were Larry Thomas, Dennis Walker, both of Amarillo and Tommy Maxwell of Lubbock.

Taxes High In Welfare State Of Norway Says Mrs. Petty

BY TROY MARTIN

A welfare state is an expensive item says Mrs. Terry Petty, the former Katie Furlow, who recently returned from Norway where her husband is a petroleum engineer with Esso Exploration Norway.

She cites as an example that she and her husband purchased a Volkswagen in Norway for $2000 and the taxes came to more than $1700 on it.

The Pettys lived two years in Norway. Terry will be coming back to the States in August to work on his doctorate at the University of Oklahoma. After that he will teach. His hometown is Paducah. The Pettys met in Midland. Katie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Furlow, 1218 Third Avenue.

The Pettys have four sons, Bruce, 6 years old, Eric, 8; Shannon, 10; and Mike, 12. All four boys speak Norwegian but the youngest talks it like a native. "He played with Norwegian children and learned to speak the language fluently," Mrs. Petty explained.

The family lived at Hafsfjord, the place where King Harold fought the battle which united Norway in the year 872. His viking ship still lies at the bottom of the fjord.

"Norway is a beautiful country," said Mrs. Petty. It rains about 80 inches a year but there is little violent weather. There was no snow at Hafsfjord but it was only a 45 minute drive to the mountains where the family found plenty of snow and skiing.

Skiing comes naturally to the Norwegians. There are only two ski centers in the country but the sport is nationwide. It is mostly cross-country skiing.

Mrs. Petty said the whole country closes down and goes to the mountains during the Easter holidays. The sun shines brightly and whole families sit around and take in the sunshine.

The Pettys lived in a two-story home with a full basement. "All homes in Norway have full basements," said Mrs. Petty. "It's amazing because they have to dynamite the basement out of sheer rock."

Most of the homes are made of wood, she went on, and they are painted bright colors.

Norway is a small country, about the size of New Mexico with a population of some 3,000,000. Agriculture is limited because of the limited amount of tillable land in the mountainous country.

Many Norwegians make their living as fishermen.

Mrs. Petty said fishing is good and cod, shrimp and lobsters are plentiful. Mike is an ardent fisherman and enjoyed himself immensely at the sport.

The children attended an American school. Growth of the school is testimony to the growing American population and influence. Last year the school had 46 pupils. This year there were 90.

Terry works on an offshore drilling rig. He usually was out a week and home a week. "I was a widow half the time," said Mrs. Petty with a laugh.

Salaries are generally good, Mrs. Petty declared. Shipyard workers draw from $500 to Mrs. Terry Petty is shown here with two of her four sons, Eric, 8; and Bruce, 6. The Pettys arrived here recently from Norway where Petty is an engineer with a petroleum company. Mrs. Petty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Furlow. She grew up in Canyon.

$700 a month. Laborers are not inclined to work overtime because taxes tend to eat up about 75 percent of overtime pay, she explained.

In the welfare state, the government provides a number of services such as care by a doctor under something similar to our medicare. Portion the individual must pay for medical care is in ratio to his salary, she said.

Medical care for school children is free. Individuals must pay for medicine.

The cost of groceries is high. "They have to import so much," said Mrs. Petty. "People raise potatoes and other vegetables and keep cows but the land is so limited, so much of it being covered by mountains and water, that they have to import such things as oranges and apples."

"Oranges come from Israel and apples from South Africa and the State of Washington in America," Mrs. Petty said the moral standards in most of Norway are still very high. Near the border of Sweden, however, they are not so good, she reported.

"The people have close family ties," she declared.

"Another thing, there aren't many crime stories in the papers," She said she heard little criticism of the government.

"The people are very patriotic," she went on. "They have a great deal of pride. Most of the people are a little reserved but when you make a friend he is a friend for life."

Mrs. Petty and the children flew to London from Norway and spent two days sightseeing. From there they flew to Washington, D. C., for a four-day stay, and then on to Amarillo. "Norway is a beautiful country," declared Mrs. Petty. "But there's no place like the USA."
